Bar owner arrested after teen found drinking beer

YONKERS - The 34-year-old owner of an Ashburton Avenue bar was arrested after alcohol was sold to a minor last weekend, police said yesterday.

Fatima DeLosAngeles of 1 Park Ave., Yonkers, was issued a summons for operating a jukebox without a license and selling alcohol to a person under 21 years old. She also was charged with unlawfully dealing with a minor, a misdemeanor.

Lt. Daniel Capanini of the 4th Precinct said police found a 19-year-old boy drinking beer when police and a building inspector paid a visit to Fatima Bar and Restaurant at 206 Ashburton Ave. at 1:45 a.m. Sunday. Capanini said there was also an unlicensed jukebox playing in the bar.

DeLosAngeles was arrested and later released. The teenager, a Yonkers resident, was issued a summons for possessing alcohol.
